Orichal UI kit

Light theme. Token names are suggestions for `client/src/styles/index.css`, so Tailwind can read them as CSS variables. The mark is two open rings with a channel cut through them, after the ringed city in Plato's account of orichalcum.

1. Prices sit in one cream column down the middle. Asks are red above it, bids green below.
2. Bars grow outward from the price and show size at that level.
3. The double rule marks the last trade and the gap between best bid and best ask.
4. Your own resting orders get an ink tag on their row. Clicking any row copies its price into the ticket.
